Chapter 19, PSU, Update

Charles Roberts
Chapter 19 Director,
Public Safety Unit

Staff morale remains extremely low due to internal issues and external problems. Internal issues like recruitment and retention can and should be addressed by our leaders but so to should external problems like inflation and anti law enforcement policies. CPOC was not created to rubber stamp bad policies and laws and true leaders don't follow the pack.

Sheriff Bianco is a great example of a leader who got out in front of the issues. Whether you agree with all of his positions or not, you have to respect his dedication and commitment. He didn't hide behind others; instead he said what he meant and meant what he said. He fought for his staff and the citizens they serve. If our managers were to emulate his example, who knows what could be accomplished?

RSA has offered numerous suggestions both economic and non-economic. The department provided PPE and approved telecommute and 4/10 schedules for the field only after RSA fought for it. I am happy to say, they stopped fighting as much and appear to be taking some responsibility. Recently managers sought suggestions from staff regarding recruitment and retention and the county itself put out a survey. Only time will tell how serious they are about getting staff the help they need.

RSA has not stopped fighting for you and they will continue. They are still trying to get relief for the institutions. I strongly encourage all staff to continue speaking up about the problems they are encountering and offering solutions even if the executive team doesn't want to hear them. Just be careful not to launch personal attacks and avoid saying anything that could be construed as insubordination.

Stay safe at work and home. ★

A Trio of Victories

Anti-Cop Legislation Stopped

Ryan Sherman
Director,
Government Affairs

At the capital, the “house of origin” deadline has passed, meaning that all 2022 Assembly bills that did not pass the Assembly floor by May 27 are dead. The same rule applies to Senate bills.

The last week of May is generally one of the busiest of the legislative year. About 600 Assembly and 400 Senate bills were either passed or killed, including many impacting law enforcement.

In recent years, we’ve seen the legislature pass laws to restrict the use of force, decertify officers, reduce sentences for gang members and those using firearms, ban certain safety and tech equipment and impose new policies that limit the ability of officers to protect themselves and the public.

And this year was no different. Another handful of bills were introduced in 2022, targeting peace officers and the work they do. However, since crime has returned to the forefront of the public’s concerns, support for the most egregious calls to “defund the police” has been abandoned by voters.

It is clear that at least one anti-cop legislator didn’t get the memo. State senator Steve Bradford (D-Gardena) authored a trio of bills this year to repeal worker protections for officers, make it harder to keep the public safe and more difficult to identify criminal suspects. These bills, along with many of his others, were intended largely to prevent criminals from being held accountable for their actions.

“About 600 Assembly and 400 Senate bills were either passed or killed, including many impacting law enforcement.”

Fortunately, Bradford’s fellow senators refused to follow along and rejected these three bills.

SB 1398 makes it illegal for officers to pull over a driver who is breaking the law. Specifically, prevent officers from conducting routine “low level” traffic stops defined as a non-working tail light, headlight, brake light, or expired registration). According to Bradford:

A) Law enforcement traffic stops are racially disproportionate in the state of California;

B) Law enforcement across the state and country misuse their power during traffic stops to ‘fish’ for information or ‘suspected criminal activity’;

C) Stop and search practices by law enforcement are entry points into the criminal justice system.

His solution is SB 1398, making it illegal for officer to pull over a driver that is breaking the law.

Relatedly, SB 1038 codifies a permanent ban on using facial recognition technology (FRT) with police body-worn cameras (BWC). Bradford claimed that:

A) The near-constant motion and the wide angle of the BWC causes blurred and low-quality images that risks false matches and wrongful arrest;

B) FRT incorrectly identified Black lawmakers as criminals (Sen. Bradford knows this is a false statement, but he repeatedly made this untrue claim to support banning cops from using FRT.

C) The purported investigatory benefits of facial recognition technology don't outweigh its demonstrated privacy risks, technical flaws and racial and gender biases.

SB 1088 removes long-standing procedural employment protections for peace officers. This bill would prohibit the reversal or modification of public safety officer discipline decisions based on a procedural violation of the Public Safety Officers Procedural Bill of Rights (POBOR) under various circumstances, the one-year statute of limitations. SB 1088 would make it much easier for peace officers to be disciplined or fired. Bradford says the bill is needed now, because:

// The Riverside Sheriffs' Association worked tirelessly with the lobbyists of other law enforcement groups in a unified manner as we educated California's state senators. //

A) Public frustration over the effectiveness of police discipline has grown in recent years as the media has drawn increasing attention to the issue of police misconduct, and particularly the use of deadly force by officers;

B) Perceptions of inadequate police discipline have been fueled by media portrayals of high-profile police shootings where a civilian is killed yet little disciplinary or legal action is taken beyond termination of employment, as in the recent case of Breonna Taylor;

C) There is a growing sentiment that it is difficult or even impossible to fire a bad cop.

The Riverside Sheriffs' Association worked tirelessly with the lobbyists of other law enforcement groups in a unified manner as we educated California's state senators about the real-world implications of these short-sighted and deceptive proposals. We are all extremely grateful for the willingness of so many state lawmakers who thoughtfully took into consideration the perspective of our rank-and-file members.

With that said, a handful of less-important bills passed their house of origin and the RSA will be working over the next three months to amend or defeat them, including:

AB 1608 - removes coroner office from sheriff's department

AB 2632 - prohibitions on solitary/segregated confinement in jails and prisons

AB 2773 - mandated communication for all traffic stops

SB 1021 - pre-trial diversion for driving under the influence

SB 1139 - public notification and contact visits for state/county inmates at local hospitals

SB 1273 - remove reporting mandates for staff assaults by students, drug sales on campuses

As mentioned above, the second half of the 2022 legislative year is now underway and there will be no shortage of bills for law enforcement to actively oppose. We will have a lot of work left to do to support law enforcement officers and public safety. There will be even more bills, including left-over bills from last summer and "gut-and-amend" bills that are routinely created in hopes of passage before the legislature adjourns on Aug. 31 for the rest of the year.

Until next month, be safe. ★

Lead Poisoning: A Serious Problem

Protecting Yourself At The Firing Range

Scott O'Mara

The Law Offices of Scott O'Mara

Lead in the blood — generally known as “lead poisoning” — has been found to be a substantial factor in the development of health issues. Studies reflect that blood lead levels (BLLs) develop and increase over a period of months or years, causing major health problems.

The U.S. Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) have set a current standard for BLLs, indicating they should not be greater than five. CDC and NIOSH have studied the exposure which occurs at firing ranges and found that ranges which are not planned and controlled appropriately can present a substantial health risk for those individuals exposed to lead particulates at the range.

CDC and NIOSH have further learned that some intervention can limit lead exposure and the impact of lead poisoning, such as the usage of ventilation and/or airflow systems at the outdoor range. They also discuss the issue of not eating and not drinking at the firing range, as well as not smoking. The limitation and mitigation of health problems from lead poisoning at ranges requires further review regarding the use of lead-free primers and bullets.

// Ranges which are not planned and controlled appropriately can present a substantial health risk for those individuals exposed to lead particulates. //

The CDC/NIOSH studies also review the carryover of lead-based exposures which occurs when shooters do not properly clean themselves and their apparel when they leave the firing range to get into their car and drive home. The lead particulates can be readily transferred from shooters' clothes to their cars and then their homes, thereby exposing their families to the potential of lead poisoning from ingesting the lead into their bodies.

Also, ranges must be cleaned to remove lead dust from the soil to prevent it from getting into groundwater.

It should be noted that lead particles in the air also can be transferred into groundwater, posing a danger to all people living in that area.

As noted above, blood lead levels should be no greater than five, and preferably less than that.

Continued exposure to lead poisoning at firing ranges is greatest for arms instructors; rangemasters; personnel with special assignments, such as snipers; and people required to qualify to use firearms.

The increased risk of lead poisoning resulting from greater exposure to lead can create dysfunction in the body systems of those so exposed. This poisoning can affect the bones, nervous system, kidneys, eyes, teeth and vision, and can result in insomnia, headaches, memory loss, reduced libido, depression, abdominal pain, diarrhea, fatigue, wrist drop and foot drop. In addition, lead poisoning can affect the reproductive system and change the sperm level, as well as impact the ability of females to conceive.

In 1971, the Federal government based the use of lead-based paint in public housing. Then, in 1978, the ban was extended to the use of lead “in virtually any paint intended for sale to consumers”.

Exposures at firing ranges need to be minimized and controlled. On May 17, 2022, the City of San Diego Shooting Range was closed down because of its lead exposures. Besides ranges, lead exposure occurs in buildings built prior to 1978, and when batteries are consumed in car and truck fires.

If you have a change in your body system emanating from lead exposure, and that change is shown to be work-related, any resulting medical care which may be necessary — possibly for the rest of your life — will be covered by Workers’ Compensation. Employers need to be proactive in protecting all their employees from lead exposure. Otherwise, great harm and damage may occur to any individuals exposed. Ranges, in particular, subject individuals to potentially dangerous levels of lead exposure, in addition to car/truck fires, building fires and wildland fires.

In conclusion, protocol and methodology to protect people from lead exposure must be developed.

In addition, you, as an individual, need to be aware of the need to “clean yourself up” when leaving the firing range, or when exposed to lead in any other setting — such as a fire — so as not to transfer lead particles to your car and then your family.

Protection from lead poisoning is needed NOW. ★

TOP OBJECTIVES OF RSA

The Riverside Sheriffs' Association is the Exclusive Employee Organization representing our members employed by the Riverside County Sheriff's Department. The Riverside County Sheriff's Department is one of the largest Sheriff's Departments in California.

Represent

To not only represent its members but to advance the social, economic, educational and general welfare of its members. We are committed to fighting for all RSA members.

Seek

To seek legislation necessary or conducive and play an active role in the political arena in furtherance of the interests of the membership.

Promote

Assist

To provide aid through the Riverside County Deputy Sheriff Relief Foundation to members and their families facing life changing crises.

The Riverside Sheriffs' Association began as the Riverside County Sheriff's Training Center Corporation in 1943, but since then has evolved into a labor organization that represents members, individually or collectively, in all matters relating to their employer-employee relations, including but not limited to grievances, labor disputes, hours, wages, and to other terms and conditions of employment as prescribed by law.

We have been able to provide donations to over 50 organizations and/or special events this year up to date.

Calling All RSA Members, Retirees, And Friends Of The RSA Membership

The new and recently dispatched RSA Rollin' Smokehouse is looking for volunteers to help "Serve those who serve" at events to help feed our members and communities.

The Rollin' Smokehouse is dependent on volunteers as it is not staffed with paid employees. Therefore, we are creating a volunteer list for those who want to help before events for prep and during the actual events serving or cooking.

Members, spouses of members, dependents of members over 16 years of age, retirees, and friends of the membership are all welcome to help and volunteer. Culinary experience is always a plus, but not necessary as we will train you to be a culinary apprentice.

This is an excellent opportunity to give back to the membership and community and also gain valuable culinary training.
