Legislator And Media Hypocrisy

California Peace Officers Memorial Week

Ryan Sherman
Director,
Government Affairs

Earlier this month, thousands of peace officers, family members and elected officials gathered at our state's capital to honor the fallen as part of the annual California Peace Officers Memorial week.

The media reported the solemnity of the events as our states leaders reverently praised the dedication and sacrifice of those officers that died in the line of duty. Governor Gavin Newsom, Attorney General Rob Bonta and Chief Justice of the California Supreme Court Tani Cantil-Sakauye praised our state's law enforcement officers and their families.

Numerous members of the state Senate and Assembly also attended the ceremony, most of whom wanted to quietly show their respect. Other lawmakers, with a lengthy history of animus towards police, attended more for the photo-op, as part of an insulting attempt to show they support officers, despite their pro-criminal and anti-cop legislative record. These politicians were widely viewed by many in the crowd with irony, suspicion and even outright disgust. More on this below.

In related news, the state Auditor of California released a report last month after conducting a review of five law enforcement departments to determine whether their officers were members of hate groups or had engaged in biased conduct. The Auditor also evaluated the departments' practices for addressing bias within their ranks and assess their efforts to guard against officers' biased conduct. The reviewed departments include the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department, the California Department of Corrections & Rehabilitation and police departments of San Bernardino, Stockton and San Jose.

The state auditors investigated and reviewed the online activity of about 750 officers across the five departments. Their results? Six of the 750 identified officers were found to have either publicly defended or promoted content from problematic groups. That's a total of just .08% of the officers reviewed. Importantly, the auditors concluded that, "... we did not find officers who were members of hate groups..."

Unfortunately, many in the media refuse to let actual facts get in the way of attention-grabbing headlines. Here are some of the more egregious ones that were written:

Bias, far-right sympathies among California law enforcement going unchecked, audit finds (LA Times, 4/28/2022)

State audit: Racial bias in CA police departments, prisons (Sacramento Bee, 4/28/2022)

Some California police are biased. A report says they have no clear plans to fix that (NPR, 5/1/2022)

A state audit paints a "disturbing picture" of bias in California's police departments (NY Times, 5/10/2022)

With headlines like these, there's no wonder why the public is so quickly

// Importantly, the auditors concluded that, "... we did not find officers who were members of hate groups..." // and easily enraged at officers after dangerous or deadly events occur.

Professional law enforcement officers abhor any misconduct against the public. Such behavior is rare, as demonstrated by the Auditor's own findings, but when such misconduct occurs, it sows community mistrust and makes the job of a peace officer more difficult and dangerous. The "bad apples" unfairly tarnish the badge for all of the rule-following, law abiding officers who end up getting stained just the same.

It is clear that headlines and media reporting can impact the public's perception of current events. Imagine how different a reader might have felt about police if the headline reflected the actual findings of the audit?

Take for example the headline run by the LA Times. Bias, far-right sympathies among California law enforcement going unchecked, audit finds. Without reading anything else in the article, the reader is left with the impression that right-wing ideology and bias is rampant among our state's peace officers. But that is NOT what the audit revealed. In fact, the audit revealed that less than 1% of the officers who were studied had said something that was positive about a "problematic group" and that not a single officer was determined to be a member of a hate group.

A newspaper headline that reads, "Under 1% of police officers post insensitive social media comments" is not going to drive readers to their paper or website nor push the media's anti-cop agenda.

Importantly, such incendiary headlines are frequently used by lawmakers to run legislation that they know will garner them positive media attention and increase a bill's chances of passage.

“The ‘bad apples’ unfairly tarnish the badge for all of the rule-following, law abiding officers who end up getting stained just the same.”

Take for example a high profile case where an officer is accused of serious misconduct but due to a violation of POBOR or some other right or protection, the discipline is prevented or reversed. Such assertions are frequently raised in Sacramento by the anti-cop groups seeking to eviscerate worker protections for peace officers while simultaneously advocating for evidentiary exclusions to benefit violent felons.

It seems that many lawmakers believe "civil rights" should be protected and enhanced for career criminals, but not for peace officers who have sworn an oath to uphold the law and put their lives on the line every day to protect the rest of us.

SB 1088 is a prime example. It is authored by Sen. Steve Bradford (D-Los Angeles) who's most recent claim to fame is last year's SB 2 - the bill that removes some civil liability protections for officers and allows a group of cop-hating political appointees to investigate whether an officer should be de-certified as a cop. Senator Bradford made a very late and very public arrival to the peace officer memorial, after missing most of the ceremony, navigating his way through the crowd, ensuring he was seen by all. He is one of the most anti-cop, pro-criminal lawmakers in the state. He's authored bills to cut in half the sentences for violent, habitual offenders and removed the mandatory enhancement for violent felons who repeatedly use firearms in the commission of their crimes. There's not enough space in this column to describe all of his other pro-criminal and anti-law enforcement bills and comments, but maybe we'll revisit his record in the future.

Back to SB 1088. This bill would allow the violation of officers' Public Safety Officers Procedural Bill of Rights Act, commonly referred to as the Peace Officers Bill of Rights or POBOR, in cases where serious allegations are asserted. Instead of these POBOR rights retaining the full force of law, a balancing test would be used to determine whether these "rights" should apply on a case by case basis.

Sen. Bradford has spoken at length about the need for this bill and has even referenced the media's role in highlighting various cases. The following is an excerpt from the official Senate Public Safety Committee analysis of the bill (did I forget to mention that Sen. Bradford is the chairman of the committee?):

It is clear that headlines and media reporting can impact the public's perception of current events.

“Perceptions of inadequate police discipline have been fueled by media portrayals of high-profile police shootings where a civilian is killed yet little disciplinary or legal action is taken beyond termination of employment, as in the recent case of Breonna Taylor.”

Employment termination, according to Sen. Bradford, is “little disciplinary” action? What more severe discipline can an employer impose on an employee beyond termination of employment?

However, he merges his next, real issue that he wants to correct when he states that little “legal action is taken beyond termination of employment, as in the recent case of Breonna Taylor.” This was the thrust of SB 2 - seeking to enhance civil and employment-based penalties for officers who engaged in actions that were later determined to be inappropriate in violation of department policy.

With SB 1088, he seeks to further stack the deck against officers, enhancing the likelihood that peace officers will have their governmental immunity stripped and face de-certification

His focus on the perceived inadequacy of civil and employment penalties was already addressed in SB 2. With SB 1088, he seeks to further stack the deck against officers, enhancing the likelihood that peace officers will have their governmental immunity stripped and face de-certification, by allowing their POBOR rights violated.

Sen. Bradford disingenuously uses a very high-profile case from Kentucky as proof that SB 1088 is needed in California and it’s working for him so far. SB 1088 passed out of the Senate Public Safety Committee on a vote of 4-1.

As this article was sent to print, the bill was awaiting action on the Senate Floor. A status update on SB 1088 and other high priority bills will be provided in the June edition of this publication.

In coordination with the other major law enforcement associations throughout the state, we’ll keep up the good fight on this bill and the other important ones moving during the remainder of the 2021-2022 legislative session.

Until next month, be safe. ★

Employment Opportunities for Retired Law Enforcement Only:

Barrister Professional Services, LLC –

Our Investigator(s) all hail from the ranks of Law Enforcement only; we DO NOT operate within the Criminal Defense Arena. We handle Investigation(s) for Third-Party Administrator(s) to include Workers Compensation Fraud. Our Workers Compensation Fraud Investigation(s) are submitted to the various District Attorney's Offices in five different Counties depending upon where Jurisdiction rests.

Additionally, we handle Investigation(s) for a host of top-tier Law Firms whose areas of practice include Personal Injury, Premises Liability, Wrongful Death, etc. We also search for Individual(s) who do not wish to be found and/or missing and conduct numerous Surveillances to include both Videography and Still Photography.

We also handle Personnel and Equity Investigation(s) for the Department of Human Resources in the most populous County in the state. { 113,000 Employee(s) } Along those lines, we could use both Surveillance Investigator(s) AND those interested in performing Personnel and Equity Investigation(s). These Investigation(s) are currently being handled remotely – a great opportunity for those worked Investigation(s), Internal Affairs and/or Command Staff / Executive Staff and who handled Personnel Investigation(s) during their career(s).

However, these position(s) are open to anyone... If you would enjoy interviewing County Employee(s) and have a knack or talent for writing – this is the assignment for you...

Everyone can visit us on-line at: www.barristerprosvcs.com if they wish to read a bit more.

The pay is: $40.00 – hourly.

BPS Security, Inc. -

This position is open for all and we have Retired folks on board from a number of different Law Enforcement Agencies.

The pay is : $20.00 - Hourly

Calling All RSA Members, Retirees, And Friends Of The RSA Membership

The new and recently dispatched RSA Rollin' Smokehouse is looking for volunteers to help "Serve those who serve" at events to help feed our members and communities.

The Rollin' Smokehouse is dependent on volunteers as it is not staffed with paid employees. Therefore, we are creating a volunteer list for those who want to help before events for prep and during the actual events serving or cooking.

Members, spouses of members, dependents of members over 16 years of age, retirees, and friends of the membership are all welcome to help and volunteer. Culinary experience is always a plus, but not necessary as we will train you to be a culinary apprentice.

This is an excellent opportunity to give back to the membership and community and also gain valuable culinary training.
